

Angle Table

The Angle Table is perfect for the modern urban home, boasting its sleek angular design and a beautiful bent glass top it allows you to display your favourite book, magazine or even your favourite jewellery underneath the smoked glass tabletop. This unique feature allows you to interact with your furniture, so that you can add an emotional value to what would ordinarily be a standard piece of furniture.

Talented designer Duncan Bull presents his 'Angle' range of products and furniture including the 'Try-Angle Lamp' and the 'Angle Table'. This range has been designed for a new company starting in September 2007. The whole range is about challenging perceptions of angles whilst also looking at how to re-invent products from the past.

Duncan aims to challenge pre-conceived concepts in design. He believes that work should have meaning and thought behind it.

Materials, colours and fine details all play a very important part in his work.
