

PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

It speaks for itself

The 'Baffle speakers' are a complete change from speakers we are used to seeing, they are bright, loud and designed to be easily moved around, giving you the opportunity to enjoy music even more.

Whilst interacting with the speakers you will constantly change the acoustics and therefore want to play with the speakers more and they will become a functional and stylish piece of furniture in your home!

The speakers are designed to give fantastic sound however they are placed, this is achieved by having the speaker facing the ground creating an elegant design which gives a surround sound style of acoustics, or laying them on their side to produce amazing directional sound and a more industrial look. The choice is yours!

The speakers can be produced in a wide variety of colours of high quality felt or other materials allowing them to be personalised to suit your home, whether you want them to blend in or stand out.

Duncan Bull is 23 and graduated from Northumbria University in 2006 with a First Class BA (Hons) in 3D Product and Furniture Design and is currently based near Reading. His work is playful and well detailed. One of his major focuses is looking at how people will interact with the furniture/product and creating pieces that look as good from whichever aspect they are viewed.

Another important aspect for Duncan is exploring materials that are either understated or only have uses in one field of manufacture, and looking at how to change and use this in his work. The 'Felt It' range of chairs and speakers was designed with all of these factors in mind. He chose to use felt for the range because he found that it was only really used in an industrial sense and that it was such a versatile material, why not use it for its qualities and start to use it for furniture.
